

Cellulite meso cocktail is helpful to get rid of an uneven surface on the body. It is used topically with a nano roller for maximum penetration.

What causes cellulite?

It involves fibrous connective cords that tether the skin to the underlying muscle, with the fat lying between. As fat cells accumulate, they push up against the skin, while the long, tough cords pull down. This creates an uneven surface or dimpling.

How many treatments will I need to reduce my cellulite?

The number of Meso therapy treatments you will need to reduce your cellulite depends on your body type and frame. Some patients see results after one to two treatments, but others may require three to four – while very few patients can require up to ten treatments to get the results they are looking for. Most individuals require between four and ten treatments to fully achieve the desired results.

Does it cause discomfort?

Mesotherapy involves the use of very small and thin needles along with the application of the topical anesthetic. Therefore, most patients do not experience any notable discomfort during the treatment or afterward. Mild soreness, swelling, and warmth in the treated area may last for one to five days.
